What will I be learning about in this Learning Programme? This module, you will learn how to talk about transport, holidays, and visits to places using different tenses such as present, past, future, and conditional. You will also practise expressing preferences, making comparisons, and giving recommendations about activities and destinations.
Where have I seen this learning before? You have seen this learning before when you described your free time, hobbies, and daily routine in the present and past tenses. It also builds on when you gave opinions and used comparatives about topics like food, sports, and school subjects.
